

Dear Colleagues

We are excited to announce the 2016 AADR/CADR Oral Epidemiology (Epi) Forum. The Task Force on Design and Analysis in Oral Health Research is a co-sponsor of this event and may be of interest to you.

2016 AADR/CADR Oral Epidemiology (Epi) Forum - The upcoming 2016 Oral Epi-Forum will be held as a BEHSR sponsored AADR/CADR satellite symposium on Tuesday, March 15th, 2016 in Los Angeles, CA, 1:00-4:30pm, with a special keynote address on Sequential Multiple Assignment Randomized Trial (SMART) designs from Dr Daniel Almirall, University of Michigan, entitled Getting SMART about Developing Individualized Sequences of Health Interventions: with Application to Oral Health. Please RSVP for the event online:

For those of you who are students/trainees or work with students/trainees engaged in epidemiology, biostatistics, or population science, we invite students/trainees to submit "works in progress" for presentation along with 3 questions about methodological quandaries to stimulate audience discussion about their presentations at the Forum (20min presentation & 10min discussion per talk). Please note: Submissions for the Oral Epi-Forum do not follow the IADR abstract submission deadlines or procedures.

Abstract submission will be open until Thursday, January 28th, 2016 (midnight PST). The abstract submission form is available at <http://goo.gl/forms/Bp2X7fVZMy>, but program inquiries can be directed to Dr. Stuart Gansky (stuart.gansky@ucsf.edu<<mailto:stuart.gansky@ucsf.edu>>), who is organizing the 2016 AADR/CADR Oral Epi-Forum. Local Arrangements Chair is Dr Val Spolsky (vspolsky@dentistry.ucla.edu).
